GOG Awards Process and Accountability

Charitable Status

The Galleries Ontario / Ontario Galleries is a registered charitable organization and complies with required charitable reporting as stipulated by the Canada Revenue Agency.

GOG's Charitable Objects

- To encourage cooperation between member galleries and museums.
- To encourage cooperation with the Ontario Arts Council and similar agencies.
- To assist in the development of visual art centres in the province of Ontario.
- To promote high standards of excellence and uniform methods in the care and presentation of art.
- To serve as an advisory body in matters of professional interest in the province of Ontario.

What do the GOG Awards recognize?

The GOG Awards recognize and celebrate the artistic agency and public service of Ontario's public art galleries—what Ontario's public art galleries actively do. The public art gallery's exhibitions, collections, programs and activities, external or internal, serve a charitable mandate of public education.

The Public Art Gallery and the GOG Awards

Though we think of the public art gallery as a permanent institution, in reality, the public art gallery instantiates and regenerates itself both financially and artistically every year.

At the same time, each year, each public art gallery serves new and diverse audiences, people of all backgrounds from home and abroad, visitors, volunteers, professional and amateur artists and many other primary creative producers including curators, and gallery staff, and teachers, students, and self-learners of all ages.

The impacts of each activity undertaken by the public art gallery carry far beyond the gallery doors in the minds of those who participate.

The public art gallery may be municipal, regional, provincial, or national. It may be independent or affiliated with a larger or smaller institution with the same or a totally different mandate. It may be collecting or non-collecting.

Relative to its own incorporation and governance model, the public art gallery originates an annual program of unique artistic activities and original cultural productions including but not limited to exhibitions, public programs, publications, special and community projects.

The GOG Awards recognize and celebrate the artistic merits of these productions and their partner relationships.

Production, Funding and Financial Accountability of the GOG Awards

The financial operations of the GOG Awards are audited on an annual basis as part of GOG's regular independent financial reporting. The Association contributes approximately 23% of its paid operating staff time to the GOG Awards each year. Through the annual Business Plan, GOG commits additional cash contributions to the Awards annually.

Additional costs over and above associated with the presentation of the GOG Awards are covered by cash sponsorships, voluntary donations, and employment project granting (for example, Young Canada Works, when available).

Active role of the GOG Secretariat

All aspects of the GOG Awards, their adjudication and their public presentation are administered and coordinated through the GOG Secretariat, including the nomination materials, the call for nominations, and the solicitation of nominations.

All GOG staff members supporting the GOG Awards declare and record conflict of interest and, including the Executive Director, absent themselves from any situation that might appear to compromise the juries' independent assessment.

GOG staff members are to have no direct contact with jurors other than as specifically directed by the Executive Director.

Relationship of the Executive Director and GOG Awards Juries

By job description, the Executive Director is the director of the GOG Awards.

The Executive Director keeps a current list of interested potential jurors. After the final nominations list for the year is compiled, the Executive Director also consults the GOG membership directory to identify potential jurors from non-competing member organizations as well as other resources. All potential juror names are assessed against the 2025 GOG Awards nomination database, which includes all the names cited in the current awards nominations. The Executive Director only issues jury invitations for that year based on apparent non-competition.

As mentioned above, jurors review the nomination materials and are then required to declare conflict of interest if it appears to them during their review.

During the jury process, the Executive Director may be asked by jurors to solicit additional information from nominees. The Executive Director is not a juror and does not determine jury decisions.

Relationships of GOG Board, Sponsors and presenting Member

Current GOG Board members, sponsors, nominees, and those affiliated with the annual host member organization do not serve as jurors and have no direct contact with jurors during the Awards process.

GOG Board members (and their organizations) are eligible like other GOG members to submit nominations into competition in the GOG Awards. This has no impact on the Juries whose decisions are independent.

GOG Board members and members may also contribute as donors to the annual GOG Awards fund-raising campaign. This bears no relationship on the Juries whose decisions are independent.

The annual GOG Awards ceremony may be presented in a Member's venue. The presenting Member is eligible to submit nominations like any other Member. This bears no relationship on the Juries whose decisions are independent.

GOG Awards Jurors & Jury Decisions

GOG jurors are invited professional visual art colleagues or artists of provincial and national stature with no organization or individual nominations in competition for the 2025 GOG Awards.

Based on the nominations, GOG aims to select jury members who are knowledgeable and representative of the submissions made. This includes but is not limited to diversity, gender parity, regional representation, etc.

Decisions of GOG Awards jurors are based on the artistic merit of the nominations and are independent of sponsorship, donation, employment or other professional, voluntary or personal relationships.

Jurors understand that public art galleries are curated spaces and are invited to bring their comprehensive and significant experience in the visual arts to assess the artistic excellence of nominations from across Ontario.

Juries, presented with all eligible nominations, measure a nomination effectiveness against its own proposal, and are able to assess the work of contemporary and/or historical artists, whether regional, provincial, national or international.

Jury deliberations are confidential and independent to the jury, and their decisions are consensual and final. Jurors scrutinize nomination materials, and then declare and record conflict of interest, and absolve themselves from any potential conflict. Jurors may be compensated for their time and contributions to the GOG Awards.

GOG Shortlist

GOG announces a Shortlist of nominees prior to the GOG Awards. The Shortlist announcement features nominees from Awards 01–24 and Award 29.

Under the deliberations of the jury, nominations will be assessed as to whether they would advance to be shortlisted. There may be cases where the Jury would choose to select a winner directly from the nominations without a shortlist.

Once finalized, the shortlist would be publicly announced by GOG prior to the GOG Awards. The announcement would feature shortlisted nominees from Awards 01–24 and Award 29, where available, as determined by the Jury. For Awards 25–28, which honours individuals, there is no shortlist. NEW THIS YEAR: The winners for Awards 25–28 are to be announced in advance of the ceremony, at the time of the shortlist announcement for Awards 01–24 and Award 29.

07. Innovation in a Collections Based Exhibition

Recognizing art exhibitions evidencing exceptional and original curatorial and artistic achievement supported by technical excellence in exhibition design and installation. The certificate cites the nominated organization, the exhibition title, exhibited artists, selection and design and installation team members as included on the nomination form.

This certificate also cites the exhibition designers and the installation team members.

11. Public Program Award

Recognizing other remarkable and innovative curatorial programs originated and developed by staff or contract employees or teams for a public audience. This Award specifically acknowledges the development of the public program as it embraces a curatorial model based on curatorial research and development producing new artistic opportunities for critical exchange between gallery, artist and community. The nominated event, performance, screening, lecture, or other form of public engagement does not need to be directly associated with an exhibition, but illustrates excellence in audience development and artistic achievement. The program/project can take place online, outside of the gallery or be part of an ongoing series. The certificate cites the nominated organization, the public program, the organizing curator(s) or public programmer(s), and the exhibited artists. Maximum one (1) nomination allowed.

12. Education Award

Recognizing remarkable and innovative art educational programs originated and developed by staff or contract employees or teams on-site or off-site. Galleries carefully design and deliver unique educational programs, opportunities and experiences for broadly diverse audiences that are intended to stimulate and broaden interest, enjoyment and understanding of art. A consciously didactic, instructive and/or programmatic purpose may help define a gallery activity more specifically as educational, as could expectations of learning outcomes about art geared to a specific audience. The certificate cites the nominated organization, the education program, and the organizing educator(s). Maximum two (2) nominations allowed.

Awards 13–17: Assessed by Jury Two

13–15. Curatorial Writing Awards

Recognizing original texts about visual art written by Canadian gallery curators, guest curators or guest writers and commissioned and published as curatorial writing in relation to an exhibited artwork or a visual art exhibition, contemporary or historical, by an GOG member organization during the eligible period. Eligibility for these awards is restricted to commissioned writing about art by a Canadian art curator in relation to an exhibited artwork or visual art exhibition by a GOG member. The curator chooses the appropriate form: it may or may not be an expository essay. Regardless of form, the length restrictions by category still apply. By Canadian we mean a person with a Canadian social insurance number.

The Curatorial Writing Awards were instituted by GOG in 1991 to recognize, support, encourage and vigorously advance the development and publishing of curatorial writing by Canadian art curators. They are

This Award is eligible for permanent, part-time, or contract staff of any BIPOC individual working with the public art gallery sector. The award will be presented annually to recognize individual changemakers and member institutions who champion voices from distinct social and political contexts, and who have unique relationships with the land. What is a technical outline and what should be included?

The technical outline is the physical production of the exhibition. It should include the orientation and spatial organization of the exhibition. It should mention the design and the production that ensures the exhibition is maintainable and robust for the length of the exhibition. It can include the type of artworks featured in the exhibition, the panels and written materials included (i.e. text panels, brochures, etc.) and the general transformation of the exhibition space. It can be up to 250 words.

What is a nomination defense and what should be included?

The nomination defense should include the focus of the nominated exhibition. It should discuss the intended audience, how it impacted the community and general public. The nomination defense should explain why the exhibition was important to the visual arts sector. It can be up to 250 words.

How many copies of a publication do I need to submit?

Please consult the checklist attached on each award nomination form. Generally, we require up to 6 copies of a publication for Jury 1 and Jury 2 and one copy for Jury 3. If you are submitting projects across multiple categories with the same publication across all four juries, you will need to submit multiple copies (upwards of 7–3 for Jury 1, 3 for Jury 2, 1 for Jury 3.) If you are submitting multiple writing/essays out of the same publication (across Awards 11–14, 17), we only require 3 copies of the publication, one for each juror on Jury 2, since they will read all the essays.

For example: You plan to nominate an exhibition for Award 4, an essay from that exhibition catalogue for Award 14, and the actual exhibition catalogue book design for Award 19: we would require 7 copies of that exhibition catalogue.

What is video or film support?

Video or Film Support is a required support material for many of the exhibition awards. It can take many forms including: brief guided tours of the exhibition, panoramic shots of the exhibition, brief interviews with the curators/artists about the exhibition, or even promotional film for the video. We recognize many galleries do not create any form of film/video with their exhibitions, which means it is not imperative that you submit something just highly encouraged to help support the nomination. Video or film support is not artist(s)' film/video art shown as part of the exhibition.

We did not produce any publication for our exhibition, is that okay?

We understand not every gallery or exhibition has the budget or resources to produce a publication. If that is the case, please submit any physical material that was produced in conjunction with the exhibition: gallery guides, brochures, promotional material, etc.

Can we submit the same project for multiple awards?

Each component (curation, writing, exhibition catalogue, programming, etc.) of a project can be submitted for its respective award category. But exhibitions can NOT be nominated for more than one exhibition award category (the exception is that every submission for Awards 01–09 are considered for Award 10: Exhibition Design and Installation).

For example: You want to submit your exhibition “Re-Hanging the Collection” for Award 04: Exhibition of the Year Budget under $20,000 Thematic, you could also submit the curator’s essay from the catalogue for Award 16: Art Writing Award as well as the after-school education programme for Award 12: Education Award. Since you nominated the exhibition for Award 04, it will also be considered for Award 10: Exhibition Design and Installation. BUT, you could NOT also nominate the exhibition for Award 07: Innovation in a Collections Based Exhibition (since you also nominated it for Award 04).

What jury adjudicates what awards?

The GOG Awards are selected by four juries each consisting of three jurors.

- Jury 1: Awards 01–10: Exhibition Awards
Award 11: Public Program Award
Award 12: Education Award
- Jury 2: Awards 13–15: Curatorial Writing Awards
Award 16: Art Writing Award
Award 17: Art Publication Award
- Jury 3: Awards 18–24: Design Awards
- Jury 4: Award 25: Changemaker BIPOC Award
Award 26: Lifetime Achievement Award
Award 27: Colleague of the Year Award
Award 28: Volunteer of the Year Award
Award 29: Key Partnership Award
